J.W. Golby Among Heroes At Buckingham Palace

James W. "Jim" Golby, 23, son of Mrs. Thomas Golby, Ten-Mile Point and the late Mr. Golby, went to a Royal investiture at Buckingham Palace in London this morning and was decorated by King George for outstanding bravery at the time of the Dun-kerque evacuation, according to a Canadian Press dispatch.

While air-raid sirens screamed and Londoners rushed to cover, His Majesty, in the great Throne Room, pinned Distinguished Service Crosses on the breasts of Golby and four other Canadians—R.W. Timbrell and David Killam of Vancouver, and Leslie R. McLernon of Montreal, all of the Canadian Navy, and Squadron Leader A.C. Brown of Winnipeg, a veteran of the Royal Air Force.

Golby and the other honored officers stood among a group of His Majesty's forces while the King rewarded them and personally thanked them for their deeds.

BORN IN VICTORIA

Lieut. Golby, who was born in Victoria and went to school here, is a member of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club. In the history-making evacuation, it was learned today, he helped wreck the massive dock at Le Havre, which carried the Normandie during her construction. That he said, was "my outstanding piece of necessary destruction." Two floating dry-docks used in naval construction also were dynamited by the sturdy Victorians.

His wife, the former Georgina Conroy, and a small daughter Sharon, live on Foul Bay Road. "The French didn't like to see us playing hob with their belongings," Golby explained. "But we couldn't see them fall into enemy hands."

GIVEN HIGH PRAISE

Aircraftman Wallace J. Cavett, 20, native son of Victoria and now in the R.A.F., was highly praised by Squadron Leader Brown for the part he played in a dangerous flight over enemy territory, which earned for Brown the high honor.

Brown faced pointblank fire from German batteries when he made a sortie along the Albert Canal in Belgium, flying as low as 10 feet over the water.

The fact he returned at all from the flight was due, he told reporters, "to the outstanding bravery" of Aircraftman Cavett, who manned the plane's machine guns.

Although wounded so badly he is still in hospital, Cavett stuck to his guns and repelled the enemy's fire, which wrecked one engine of the plane and had the

The War Today

By GUY RHOADES

BRITONS CONFIDENT

Britain ended the first year of the war today, viewing the past with satisfaction and the future with sober confidence while wild battles raged through her skies and her air force struck at her enemies.

London had its air raid alarms today and the people hardly noticed, going on with their work in strange contrast to their reactions that beautiful Sunday morning a year ago a few minutes after Neville Chamberlain, tired and sad over his efforts to halt the invasion of Poland, had announced that a state of war existed between Britain and Germany.

That day when the sirens sounded most of those who were not on air raid precautions, police or fire duty went obediently to shelters and stood around feeling silly while nothing happened.

Today in the midst of the war's biggest air battles those who were in immediate danger zones took shelter, those at vantage points watched, and those out of the danger area worked.

WARNING FROM EDEN

Britons, watching the days slip by during which Hitler might most advantageously make an attempt to invade their island, were cautioned by War Secretary Anthony Eden that it would be foolish to conclude that the coming of autumn removes the danger of invasion.

While the exchange of air raids continued it was announced that Bucharest that German mechanized troops would move into southern Rumania September 15 to face Russian troops along the newly delineated Russo-Rumanian frontier.

How friendly was Germany's intention in sending the troops

Britain Gets 50 U.S. Destroyers

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt notified Congress today of an agreement between the United States and Great Britain under which the American government will lease naval and air bases in British possessions in the north and south Atlantic and transfer 50 over-age destroyers to Britain.

The United States State Department will acquire naval and air bases in Newfoundland and in the islands of Bermuda, the Bahamas, Jamaica, St. Lucia, Trinidad, and Antigua, and in British Guiana.

Gift of Bases In Newfoundland

"The right to bases in Newfoundland and Bermuda are gifts generously given and gladly received," the President said in a special message.

"The other bases mentioned here were acquired in exchange for 50 of our over-age destroyers."

The President enclosed an opinion by Attorney-General Robert Jackson, dated August 27, 1940, regarding his authority to consummate this arrangement.

Officials said no action by Congress would be necessary to put the agreement into effect.

The Senate was not in session today, so the message went only to the House of Representatives, meeting to debate the Senate-approved conscription bill.

Mr. Roosevelt said the arrangement with Britain was effected in an exchange of notes between Lord Lothian, the British ambassador, and State Secretary Cordell Hull September 2.

It "is not inconsistent in any sense with our status of peace," he declared.

"Still less is it a threat against any nation," he continued. "It is an epochal and far-reaching act of preparation for continental defence in the face of grave danger."

Defence Preparations Nation's Right

"Preparation for defence is an inalienable prerogative of a sovereign state. Under present circumstances this exercise of sovereign right is essential to the maintenance of our peace and safety. This is the most important action in the reinforcement of our national defence that has been taken since the Louisiana purchase. Then as now, considerations of safety from overseas attack were fundamental."

Defence Areas Beyond Price

The value of the western hemisphere of these outposts of security "is beyond calculation," the President stated.

"Their need has long been recognized by our country, and especially by those primarily charged with the duty of charting and organizing our own naval and military defence."

"They are essential to the protection of the Panama Canal, Central America, the northern portion of South America, the Antilles, Canada, Mexico, and our own eastern and Gulf seaboard. Their consequent importance in hemisphere defence is obvious. For these reasons I have taken advantage of the present opportunity to acquire them."

No British Ships Ever to Go to Nazis

In issuing the exchange of correspondence between the British ambassador and the U.S. Secretary of State covering the agreement on the destroyers and bases, the State Department made public a letter from Secretary Hull which read:

"The Prime Minister of Great Britain is reported to have stated on June 4, 1940, to Parliament in effect that if during the present war in which Great Britain and the British Commonwealth are engaged the waters surrounding the British Isles should become untenable for British ships of war, the British fleet would in no event be surrendered or sunk, but would be sent overseas for the defence of other parts of the Empire."

"The government of the United States would respectfully inquire whether the foregoing statement represented the settled policy of the British government."

In his reply, dated yesterday, Lord Lothian said: "This statement certainly does represent the settled policy of His Majesty's government."

The ambassador added: "These hypothetical contingencies seem more likely to concern the German fleet or what is left of it than the British fleet."

Hand Over 8 Next Friday

The United States navy department announced this afternoon that the first eight of the 50 destroyers are at Boston and should be ready for delivery by next Friday. They will be sent to Canadian ports with their present crews, it was said. There they will be taken over by British seamen.

The others will be ready "when requested," a navy announcement said, and they will be "in an operating condition."

It was announced that Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations, had fulfilled legal requirements for disposing of fighting equipment by certifying that release of the vessels to Britain, and the acquisition of defence bases, would strengthen rather than impair U.S. defences.

To Keep Enemy Distant From Coast

ABOARD ROOSEVELT TRAIN EN ROUTE TO WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt today said the chief value of air and naval bases acquired in British crown colonies strewn from Newfoundland to British Guiana was that they would keep the enemy away from the United States' front door.

They have got to get through there, Mr. Roosevelt said, before they can get to the mainland.

He told reporters at a press conference in his special train that the epochal acquisition of the bases was probably, in some respects, the most important thing for United States defence since the Louisiana Purchase in 1803.

Furthermore, the President dropped what appeared to be a hint that further history-making steps might be taken to provide additional distant bases for the protection of America and the west hemisphere.

When a reporter inquired whether the agreement with Britain might lead to the postulation that a base would be established in Greenland, the President said he thought newsmen should refrain from writing that it was a forerunner of anything else.

Great Satisfaction Expressed in Britain

LONDON (CP)—British officials, declaring news of the exchange of British bases for United States destroyers was received by the nation "with the greatest possible satisfaction," said tonight that Prime Minister Churchill would make a statement on the agreement in the House of Commons on Thursday.

Britain, they said, will send crews to the United States to take over the warships, whose names will be changed.

The Prime Minister said the King tonight and it was presumed they discussed the agreement, among other war developments.

Britain had 185 destroyers last September 3. The Admiralty has announced the loss of 30 and others have been damaged, but there has been new building—how much the Admiralty does not tell—in that time.

Germany had 22 destroyers last September; Italy 61. There are no figures available on new axis construction.

"For once I've got some good news for you," beamed a Foreign Office spokesman at the beginning of a news conference.

"Successful conclusion of the agreement was greeted by His Majesty's government and the peoples of the British Empire and Commonwealth of Nations," he said.

It demonstrates "the manner in which the democracies can ensure through negotiations their own and common interests," he added.

The spokesman declared that Britain's possessions and colonies were involved in the "consultation and concurrence" on leases to the United States for western hemisphere bases.

New Guarantee Of Atlantic Control

Spokesmen, naval and civil, emphasized three purposes they said would be served by the agreement:

1. The destroyers are a "timely reinforcement" for the Royal Navy in maintaining control of the Atlantic;

2. The 99-year lease of bases is "a contribution to the security of the United States," something which the British Empire recognized as "bound up" with the future of the world;

3. It means a "material strengthening of defences in the western hemisphere."

The Foreign Office spokesman conceded that "it is no secret that Britain needs destroyers."

"They are necessary," he said, "for convoys, dealing with submarines and keeping open the sea channels between England and the two Americas."

He emphasized that the 99-year lease meant there was "no transfer of sovereignty" but he said the bases would be "under the United States flag."

The United States, he said, will occupy the bases "practically immediately, as soon as the rights of private individuals or interests in the possessions can be adjusted."

Nazis Not Ready With Statement

BERLIN (AP)—German sources displayed extreme caution today in reaction to the United States' transfer of 50 over-age destroyers to Great Britain. They declared it involves "a question of conceivable vast import in relation to which the German attitude cannot be defined before a thoroughgoing study of all aspects of international law concerned."

Victoria Navy Officers Off to Training Centres

Headed by Commodore E. P. Ashe of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, a group of Victorians will leave this week for training centres to take commissions with the Royal Canadian Navy.

Some are going direct to England, others will go into training in eastern Canada. They are men from the volunteer reserve and the supplementary reserve who have been accepted for commissions.

At the Yacht Club last night a farewell party was held for Commodore Ashe, and Claude L. Campbell, vice-principal of Victoria High School, who is also a popular member of the yacht club.

An illuminated address was presented by Col. Eric Pepler, vice-commodore. Other speakers were ex-Commodore L. A. Genge, Major W. H. Langley, Ben Temple and Humphrey Golby, for the entertainment committee. Also on the platform were Frank O'Riley, S. M. D. Robertson and L. O. Howard. Mr. Ashe was presented with a silver cigarette case and Mr. Campbell with a wallet.

Commodore Ashe will be sorely missed by the yacht club to which his enthusiastic work has always been a source of encouragement. Junior members particularly will miss his advice.

HIGH SCHOOL TEACHER

Mr. Campbell is going into service for the second time. He left Victoria High School at the age of 17 to go overseas in the last war, but the Armistice was signed before he got to France. He resumed his studies on returning, graduating from U.B.C. in 1923. After a post-graduate course at the University of Wisconsin he joined the teaching profession which he has followed for the last 16 years. His hobby has been boat building and cruising. In his yacht, the Barbara Jean, he has explored British Columbia's coastline thoroughly.

Others in the group leaving this week are active in the business and professional life of Victoria. Some have been with the naval reserve or on call since early in the war.

Roy Denny is a director of the Standard Furniture Company. He is owner of the ship West Wind. Mr. and Mrs. Denny live at 210 Denison Road.

Gordon D. Campbell, salesman for Hoyle Brown, goes from the supplementary reserve. He and Harry C. Ferne, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Ferne, 380, King George Terrace, has just concluded his training at the Provincial Normal School for a first-class teaching certificate. He attended Victoria schools and the U.B.C.

Kenneth W. Winsby, son of Col. and Mrs. W. N. Winsby, 2612 Cranmore Road, is a teller in the Bank of Montreal, Cloverdale branch. He was educated at Oak Bay grade schools, Oak Bay High School and Victoria College.

Edward F. Fox, member of the Daily Times editorial staff, has been called from the supplementary reserve. He lives with his wife and baby girl at 2708 Dufferin Street. He is a native-born Victorian and received all his schooling here.

3 Men Attempt To Kill Carol

BUCHAREST (AP)—An attempt by three men to assassinate King Carol was frustrated tonight by palace guards in a gun fight in the palace gardens.

One of the assassins was reported killed. The attack took the guards by surprise and the three reached a driveway near the palace proper before they were surrounded and overcome.

The incident occurred at 8:55 this evening as a crowd milled idly about in front of the palace. An automobile with three men drew up in front of a palace gate. One of the occupants leaped from the machine, ran inside the driveway shouting "Long live the Iron Guard." They fired then at the brightly-lit palace windows as they ran.

The news ran quickly through Bucharest streets, where crowds had been demonstrating in protest against the Transylvanian decision forced by Germany and Italy.

All telephone communication was cut off within five minutes after the shooting. A meeting of the council of ministers was going on in the palace at the time.

Ever since the Vienna conference—at which the axis made the decision that Rumania must give up part of Transylvania—special precautions have been taken to guard the King. He has not appeared in public since the decision was announced, but has been in constant conference with his cabinet ministers and the crown council.

He is reported to have lost 33 pounds during the crisis because of his long hours of work and worry.

Final Bulletins

50 NAZIS DOWNED

LONDON (CP)—An Air Ministry statement issued tonight said:

"Further reports of yesterday's actions confirm that eight more enemy aircraft were shot down yesterday by anti-aircraft fire. This brings the total enemy aircraft destroyed yesterday down to 50, of which 12 were shot down by anti-aircraft fire. The best shot down by our ground defences was over 200."

Police Pursue 28

CUMMINGS POWELL FARM, Ark. (AP)—Squadron leader and re-capture today tonight swiftly into the list of 36 convicted who shot their way to freedom here yesterday, but one desperate band still held out. Three youthful hostages in nearby Louisiana this afternoon.

The deaths of a blind recaptures left 28 still at large, with most of them believed to be on foot in the heavy woods around here.

Viscount Horne Dies

LONDON (CP)—Viscount Horne, 69, chairman of the Great Western Railway, and a former Chancellor of the Exchequer, died today in Surrey after an operation for appendicitis.

As Sir Robert Horne he served in the cabinet of David Lloyd George as Labor Minister.

R.A.F. Rakets Enemy Fronts

Germans Lose 23, Fail Against London

LONDON (CP)—Two German attempts to smash through London's air defence failed today against the combined fire of British fighter planes and anti-aircraft guns.

The second attempt kept London under air alarm for 1 hour 10 minutes from 2:50 p.m. to 4 p.m. (5:40 to 7 a.m., P.S.T.). Planes were heard over the metropolitan area.

British and German planes fought spectacularly over the Thames estuary, waterway to London, marking the first anniversary of Britain's going to war with one of the conflict's biggest air battles.

Observers said about 300 raiders were beaten off by British fighters and ground defences.

An Air Ministry announcement said 23 German planes had been destroyed during the day. British losses were 14 aircraft, eight of the pilots of which were known to be safe.

Nazi and Italian Centres Bombed

On the other front, that of the offensive against the enemy, targets from Norway to Italy were attacked yesterday and last night by Britain's bomber squadrons, which aimed especially heavy blows at a power plant at Genoa, a dynamite works near Cologne and gun emplacements on the French coast, the Air Ministry announced tonight.

Three British planes were lost in the operations, the ministry said.

It also said that British planes bombed supply ships in a Norwegian harbor on Sogne Fjord and at sea off the Netherlands coast.

(The Italian high command acknowledged today that Genoa, the great port and industrial centre in northern Italy, had been bombed by the Royal Air Force during the night. The R.A.F. also visited other regions of the industrial north, the communiqué indicated. No hint was given, however, as to the extent of the damage inflicted by the British bombers.)

The Admiralty announced a Norwegian torpedo boat co-operating with British naval forces had shot down a German dive bomber which attacked the torpedo boat and a nearby merchant ship.

At least seven German raiders were reported shot down in the early phases of today's air fighting. National Defence headquarters announced this afternoon, three over the English Channel, three others in an attack on the Thames estuary and another near a southeast coast town.

The main German attacks apparently were directed again chiefly at airdromes in south-eastern England, which have been attacked repeatedly since the Germans first broke through to the London area in force on August 18 to bomb Croydon.

In the earlier repulse of the German mass attack on the south-east coast, fighting lasted more than an hour before the Germans scattered and headed back over the Channel.

The drone of many engines, bursts of machine-gun fire and the sight of falling planes told the story to watchers on the ground.

In one coastal district six air men were seen drifting down by parachute several miles from the scene of the main battle, apparently having jumped from disabled planes.

The attacks provided a bloody opening for Britain's second year of war.

Shortly after the London area had its 37th raid alarm of the war, the invaders, a large force of bombers accompanied by scores of fighters, came roaring over the coast.

A number of German planes were reported to have been sent crashing to earth.

The roar of exploding bombs came like thunder for several minutes as the battle shaped into one of the largest of the war.

Jettison Bombs And Flee Homeward

The Germans apparently were thoroughly beaten as, after the hour's fighting, they jettisoned their bombs and turned homeward with British fighters in pursuit.

When the British fighters returned to their bases, some of them did their "victory roll."

London was under alarm for one hour and 12 minutes beginning at 10:22 a.m. The sirens sounded almost within a half hour of the hour a year ago when Neville Chamberlain, then Prime Minister, announced in a sad voice that Britain was declaring war on Germany. Two days earlier Germany had invaded Poland.

It was London's 33rd raid since August 18, when Croydon airdrome was bombed in a big mass raid, and the seventh in the last three days.

W. S. Phillips Dead

SEATTLE (AP) — Walter S. Phillips (El Comanche), artist and author of numerous books and articles on Indian lore and wild life, died yesterday in a hospital here.

Born at Fairbury, Ill., in 1867, he was taken, the next year, to Nebraska, where his childhood and adolescence were spent with Indians as his principal playmates. He learned six dialects and was adopted into five tribes.

He came here in '89 as a reporter for the old Seattle Telegraph; returned east and worked for several magazines; became a freelance writer and returned to Seattle in 1901.

Boy Loses Leg

FERMIE, B.C. (CP) — Raymond Buchanan, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Buchanan, slipped under a moving freight train here and suffered injuries necessitating amputation of a leg below the knee.

The boy was playing on the depot platform with other lads when he stumbled and fell between the platform and the main line track on which the freight was moving slowly eastward.

Ex-U.S. Senator Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jonathan Bourne Jr., 85, United States senator from Oregon from 1907 to 1913, died yesterday in his apartment.

He was author of the parcel post law. Prior to entering the Senate, he was a member of the Republican National Committee from 1888 to 1892.

Born in New Bedford, Mass., on February 23, 1855, Bourne was the son of the owner of a large fleet of whaling ships. He entered Harvard, but left college to go to sea. Shipwrecked off Formosa, he was picked up and taken in 1878 to Portland, Ore., where he studied law, was admitted to the bar, and engaged in mining, farming and various commercial enterprises.

New Call To Britain's Forces

Army More Alert as Fall Approaches, Says Eden

LONDON (CP) — War Secretary Anthony Eden, in an anniversary message to the nation today, said "it would be most foolish to suppose that, because autumn approaches, the threat of invasion is already passed."

Addressing the National Defence Public Interest Committee at a luncheon, Mr. Eden stated: "The contrary is the fact. There is no shred of evidence to show that Hitler has abandoned his declared intention to seek to subdue this country by invasion."

The minister observed, however, that, with the Battle of Britain still beating "about our ears," August was "for . . . in many respects the best month of this fighting year."

Then he sounded the warning to Britons not to be less alert. "There is plenty of evidence to cause us to be especially watchful during these next few weeks," he said.

"Vigilance is as compelling a duty today as it has been at any time in these last three months. To watch and ward is our instruction, not as troops that hold passively a defensive line but as an army waiting to spring should the foe come within our grasp."

4 U.S. Volunteers Released By Nazis

VICHY (AP) — Louis Wehrle of Fort Wayne, Ind., former American volunteer ambulance driver who said he lost 60 pounds during his three-month confinement in a German prison camp, arrived here today with another captured volunteer, Murray Shipley of Cincinnati.

The two were captured after German parachute troops had dropped around them in northern France in mid-May. They were held at Hoyerswerd, near Dresden, along with two others, Alfred Raymond of Chicago and Marcus Clark, Hollywood. All were released August 23.

In the same prison, Wehrle said, were 6,000 French officers, including nearly a dozen French armies. Approximately 20,000 other French prisoners and 4,000 Belgians passed through the camp en route to work labor gangs in Germany.

"We got ersatz (substitute) coffee five times weekly, and a porridge made of oat flour twice weekly," Wehrle said. Other meals included potato cabbage soup, black bread, some codfish, but very rarely meat.

Nazi Contributions

LONDON (CPA) — Contribution to a Spitfire was placed in a collection box in a German airman brought in a battle over Kent, the British Broadcasting Corporation reported last night.

Few Casualties in Raids On Britain

Nazis Lose 67 at Week-end

LONDON (CP) — Casualties were "remarkably small" in German night bombings on the outskirts of London and a number of areas elsewhere in England, the government announced today.

The Air Ministry and Ministry of Home Security issued the following statement: "During last night enemy activity was widespread over many parts of this country, but reports indicate the general damage was slight."

"In a town in the Midlands appear to have been the main objectives of the enemy's attack, but little damage was done by the few bombs which fell in the town areas, for by the far larger number dropped in the outlying districts."

"Enemy aircraft also dropped bombs on several places in the outskirts of London, on three south coast towns, and on widely separated districts of southeast England and of the east and northeast coasts."

"In a town in the northeast area damage was done to a number of houses and shops. In the London area very little damage has been reported."

"In a south coast town damage was done to houses and shops. Reports so far received from all parts of the country indicate that no harm was done."

3 Enemy Waves Scattered at London

Twice turned back in thrusts across the English Channel yesterday, German raiders were repelled again by violent Royal Air Force attacks and anti-aircraft fire when a third attempt carried them through London's outer defenses.

The Nazi planes came over at a great height, in formation. As they approached the capital's defenses, anti-aircraft fire forced them to scatter.

More than 100 German planes were turned away by the intense fire as they approached the London area, but they succeeded in dropping some bombs.

Three of a formation of Nazi bombers were brought down by the blazing anti-aircraft guns in two minutes over the capital's outskirts.

Successful mass formations had been repelled earlier over the Thames estuary. The Air Ministry said 42 German planes had been shot down Sunday, compared with a loss of 20 British fighters. This raised to 67 the German losses for the week-end.

To London observers, the first indication of the German breakthrough was a sudden rush of smoke-puffs which sprinkled a whole section of the sky, an indication of anti-aircraft batteries at work. Their fire was reported to have accounted for one German plane. Spitfire fighters soared aloft.

Nine parachutes were seen descending from stricken planes. The rattle of machine guns was plainly heard at one point.

Spitfires Rush Against Enemy

"Our planes were on them like a pack of dogs," said an observer, "and almost immediately the level tone of the raiders' engines altered to a high-pitched roar varying from second to second as Hurricanes and Spitfires dived and twisted in and around the formation."

British fighters roared over the London area, heading toward the coast, where Germans had been making attacks throughout the day."

Earlier a formation of 50 Nazi craft, centred about two huge four-motored bombers, was broken up in a battle over the Thames estuary.

The second raid was made on the southeast coast early in the afternoon. Four waves of fighter-escorted bombers—each of about 60 planes—were tackled by British fighters and anti-aircraft fire and turned back across the Channel.

The raiders, roaring over the coast so low they could be counted by ground observers, penetrated only a few miles inland before British fighters were in the air to stop them.

A number of persons were reported killed and "considerable" damage done in a South Wales town yesterday.

Mayor and Wife Suffer Injuries

Two persons were killed in a southeast England town and others, including the mayor, were injured in an early morning attack.

A bomb hit the mayor's home where he and the mayoress were in bed. The couple fell through the bedroom floor which it collapsed, into the living-room, and they were rescued from under a heap of debris and removed to a hospital. The mayoress is suffering from two fractures.

USE BIG JUNKERS

The four-engined German "monster" bombers which formed the centre of a mass formation attacking southeast England yesterday were identified by a neutral air source as Junkers 90s, the large military planes used by the Nazis as troop transports in Norway.

British sources said there was no evidence the bombers were carrying troops, and expressed the opinion the use of such planes showed the Nazis "slowly are becoming deficient in other bomber types, such as Heinkels and Dorniers."

The planes, with a wingspan of 115 to 120 feet and close to 100 feet long, can carry a crew of five and 16 250-pound bombs, or a smaller number of larger missiles. The Junkers 90s have been in production about nine months.

The day sorties followed a night of quiet in the capital and only scattered raids over the rest of the country. Seven coastal towns, however, were subjected to "chain" raids for seven hours by planes flying in relay. Little damage was reported.

The Air Ministry said one night attack was concentrated along the Bristol Channel.

British Confident R.A.F. Will Win

Britons, impressed by the superior showing of their numerically smaller air force, were confident their planes could continue to keep on top of German raiders, even though the latter suddenly adopted new tactics designed to weaken the British fighter strength.

This was to send out "dispersion" formations of bombers heavily protected by fighters in an effort to draw R.A.F. fighters into uneven battles. These tactics meant a considerably lessened bombing power for the German, but were designed to manoeuvre the R.A.F. defence forces into outnumbered positions.

Yesterday marked the beginning of a period of high equinoctial tides—the last such period of the year which might favor the Nazis in an effort to land shallow draft boats on the British coast. The government did not disclose having spotted any preparations for such an attempt, however, although the R.A.F. Sunday night and yesterday smashed at German gun emplacements on the French coast, raiding them twice in two prolonged forays from Cap Gris Nez to Boulogne.

10 U.S. Planes Daily To British Empire

WASHINGTON (AP) — Britain has ordered a $2,000,000,000 bill of goods in the United States since she declared war on Hitler a year ago today.

British purchasing agents, who gave this figure, estimated another $2,000,000,000 in orders would be forthcoming in the second year ahead.

The list runs into hundreds of items, but the emphasis has been constantly on planes. About $1,200,000,000 of the first year's contracts were for aircraft.

Probably not more than $50,000,000 of the first year's contracts have yet been filled, however. In many cases new factories—a number of them paid for by Britain—had to be built before a start could be made on the orders.

Official information is refused, but indications are that Britain and the Empire are getting about 10 new military planes a day off American assembly lines. By next summer, they seem to have hopes for about 70 a day. Expressions of doubt that the war will last that long are laughed at.

Schools Disregard Hepburn's Request

TORONTO (CP) — In all but a few scattered sections, Ontario's schools reopened today on schedule despite the plea early in August of Premier Hepburn for a later opening so boys and girls might help with farm work or sell war saving stamps.

The Premier announced August 8 he desired that elementary schools remain closed until September 16 and secondary schools until October 1 so students might enlist for farm labor under a plan sponsored by the government.

The Premier said, however, the government had no power to compel a school opening later than the statutory "day-after-Labor-Day" regulation.

Members of school boards contended public schoolboys are neither strong enough nor experienced enough to aid farmers. The Premier said there was an "emergency" due to shortage of farm labor.

David F. Houston Dies in New York

NEW YORK (AP) — David Franklin Houston, 74, life insurance company executive, and a member of Woodrow Wilson's cabinet during the first Great War, died yesterday.

He served as Secretary of Agriculture from 1913 to 1920, and as secretary of the treasury in 1920 and 1921.

After his eight years in Washington, Houston went to New York and became associated with a number of business institutions. When elected president of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York on June 29, 1927, he was vice-president and director of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company; president of the Bell Telephone Securities Company; director of the New York Telephone Company, the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, Prudential Insurance Company of America and a trustee of the Institute of Economics, Washington, D.C.

King Says Defence Alone Not Enough

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister Mackenzie King warns that continued domination of Europe by totalitarian states would force new world democracies to regimentation and make them "hewers of wood and drawers of water for the new economic masters of the world."

Liberation of Europe from Nazism will depend on the strength and will "not of one democracy but of all the democracies that have survived," he said in an address broadcast over the national network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation. He spoke on the "Let's Face the Facts" series.

"If we lack the vision to see the peril and strength to meet it, we on the North American continent, like the nations of Europe, may come to disaster," the Prime Minister said.

Mr. King commented with satisfaction on the co-operation on North American defence now underway between Canada and the United States.

However, he said defence of the continent was not enough. Even if the continent is not invaded the continued domination of Europe would force new world democracies to regimentation through economic pressure.

A fact to be faced in the war was the vast new resources acquired by Germany in her career of conquest. With the conquered areas, Germany now had a capacity for producing 42,000,000 tons of steel annually compared with a British capacity of 17,000,000.

Pastor's Daughter Bride at Pretty Wedding

With a minister's son and a pastor's daughter as principals, a wedding of interest to Vancouver as well as Victoria drew a large congregation to the Metropolitan United Church on Saturday evening at 8, when Dorothy Maurine, daughter of Rev. A. E. Whitehouse, D.D., and Mrs. Whitehouse, Johnson Street, became the bride of Wordsworth Lloyd Hetherington, son of Mrs. A. E. Hetherington, Vancouver, and the late Rev. A. E. Hetherington, D.D.

The church was beautifully decorated with tall standards of autumn flowers, over which tall white cathedral tapers in white standard candelabra cast a soft glow, and tiny colonial bouquets of the flowers marked the guest pews. Mrs. R. Crozier-Smith headed the friends responsible for the decorations.

Mr. T. R. Carey gave his granddaughter in marriage and the ceremony was performed by Rev. Hugh McLeod of First United Church. Mr. Edward Parsons was at the organ, and as the register was being signed Miss Dorothy Parsons sang the hymn, "O Father, All-creating."

IN BRIDAL SATIN

Bridal satin fashioned the lovely gown worn by the bride, the bodice inset with Chantilly lace, and featuring self-covered buttons and long sleeves tapered over the wrists. The full skirt ended in a court train, and her veil of illusion net, which had been worn by the bridegroom's mother on her wedding day, was edged in seed pearls and confined to the hair with a coronet of orange blossoms. Her shower bouquet was of deep red roses and white heather.

Mrs. Bruce D. McLagan of Vancouver, sister of the bride, was matron of honor in a gown of dusky rose georgette with bishop sleeves, tiny frills edging the neckline, the full skirt tied with a sash, and her wide-brimmed hat to match the gown, and she carried a sheaf of azure blue asters. The Misses Anna Anderson and Rae Millar, both of Victoria, were bridesmaids, gowned respectively in powder blue and autumn yellow georgette, in frocks in shirtwaist style with bishop sleeves, full skirt and Peter Pan collars, and instead of hats, wore hand-embroidered veils caught with tiny clusters of flowers. Their colonial bouquets were of pink roses, yellow sweet sultan and larkspur.

Mr. Ewart Hetherington of Vancouver supported his brother, and the ushers included Messrs. Harold Hetherington, Bruce McLagan and Wheeler Govier, all of Vancouver, and Raymond Whitehouse, Victoria.

Many guests were welcomed at the Metropolitan Church parsonage, 916 Johnson Street, after the ceremony, in a setting of early autumn flowers. Mrs. Whitehouse was gowned in fuchsia crepe-back satin, with matching hat and a corsage of gardenias, and the bridegroom's mother wore a gown of Alice blue crepe with black hat, and gardenias.

The three-tiered wedding cake centred the supper table, flanked with rosebuds, smilax and tulles, and lighted with ivory tapers in silver candelabra. Rev. Hugh McLeod proposed the bride's health and Rev. W. J. Sipprell, D.D., that of the groom.

For her honeymoon trip to the Forbidden Plateau the bride donned a rust-crepe dress, with brown tweed coat collared in wolf, dark brown accessories and a corsage bouquet of deep red roses and white heather. They will make their home in Vancouver.

A miscellaneous shower was arranged by Mrs. W. Ashton and Mrs. W. B. Thompson at the home of Mrs. J. Stephenson, 1617 Burton Avenue, in honor of Miss Dorothy Brooks, a September bride. The bride-elect was presented with a corsage of pink and white asters, and the gifts, concealed in a pink and white box, were presented by little Louise Naysmith. Refreshments were served from a table decorated with pink and white asters and pink candles in silver holders. The evening was spent in playing games. The invited guests were: Mesdames C. Brooks, J. Baron, H. Small, F. Rawnsley, H. Paver, S. Headdy, A. Cook, E. Gough, F. Bridge, D. McLennan, A. Tudor, R. Eastham, S. Naysmith, J. Stephenson, George Strawford and Louise Naysmith.

Mrs. C. Cunningham Jr., Mrs. J. O. Patterson and Mrs. J. Wooten were the hostesses recently at a miscellaneous shower held at the home of the latter in honor of Miss Zillah Townsend. The many useful gifts were presented to the bride-to-be in a prettily decorated basket of pink and white. Refreshments were served from a lace-covered table decorated with pink and white steamers falling from a large white bell. Games were played, winners being Mrs. F. Burley and Mrs. M. P. Paine. Invited guests were: Mesdames C. Cunningham, St. H. Browning, B. Harford, M. P. Paine, S. Townsend, H. Symons, E. Galt, F. Burley, J. Galt, V. Galt, R. Wooten, H. Wooten and the Misses Zillah Townsend, Isobel Mundell and Bernice Burley.

Primrose Lodge, Daughters of England, will hold a drill practice in the S.O.E. Hall, on Tuesday, September 10, at 2 p.m., and a rummage sale at 737 Pandora Avenue on Saturday, September 7. Parcels may be left at the store on Friday from 1 to 4 p.m.

Founder of Famous Settlement Dies

WESTPORT, Conn. (AP) — Lillian Wald, 73, founder of the famous Henry Street settlement in New York City, author, and close friend of President and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, is dead here.

The Henry Street settlement with which she was closely identified was founded by her shortly after she was graduated from the New York hospital training school for nurses. The settlement, a community, civic, social and health center, has served as a model for similar social work in slum areas throughout the United States.

Miss Wald also founded the Visiting Nurses' Association in New York which today sends more than 250 nurses daily throughout the city, and it was through her efforts that the children's bureau in the Federal Department of Labor was established.

Besides writing for magazines and newspapers, Miss Wald was the author of "The House on Henry Street" and "Windows on Henry Street."

Tiny self-covered buttons marked the back of the gown, and the skirt was very full. MAE WAS A

HOT-WEATHER OFFENDER

MAE not only knew how to dance—the knew how to dress well, too. But what she did not know—or thought didn't matter—was that anybody who is careless can become a HOT-WEATHER OFFENDER.

All of us must perspire to live—just as we must breathe. Hot, sticky weather increases perspiration—and what is worse, it speeds up decomposition. Left on the body, sweat deposits go stale—decompose.

"B.O." adds rancid, business and social chances. Check it before it starts by using Lifebuoy regularly. Lifebuoy contains an exclusive deodorizing ingredient not found in other leading toilet soaps. Used in your daily bath, Lifebuoy stops "B.O."—it is rich, purifying lather washes away stale sweat deposits—protects you from offending others. It is also kind to the skin—20% milder than many so-called "beauty" and "baby" soaps, by actual test.

SCIENTIFIC FACTS ABOUT B.O.

The adult skin has 2 to 3 million sweat glands which act as a cooling system, giving off from 1 to 3 pints of perspiration daily—more when we are sitting still. If perspiration stopped, we would die from hyperpyrexia (heat stroke).

Because much of the water in perspiration evaporates, we do not see or feel it. Summer heat, nervous excitement, heavy clothes or warm rooms quickly decompose this sweat deposit—turn it stale—cause offensive "B.O." (Body Odor).

LIFEBUOY IN YOUR DAILY BATH Stops B.O.

START THE DAY RIGHT WITH ALL-BRAN MUFFINS

All-Brans Muffins are breakfast favorites in thousands of homes. Many diets lack sufficient bulk and just that extra "bulk" is required by many to keep "regular." All-Brans Muffins are a tempting treat and so easy to make.

BASIC BRAN MUFFIN RECIPE

2 tablespoons shortening 1 cup milk
1 cup sugar 1 cup flour
1 cup All-Brans 1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup Kellogg's All-Brans 1/2 teaspoon baking powder

Cream shortening and sugar thoroughly; add egg and beat until creamy. Stir in All-Brans and milk; let mix until moist. Measure 1/2 cup of this mixture and stir until flour disappears. Fill greased muffin pans three-quarters full and bake in moderately hot oven (400° F.) about 20 minutes.

Yield: 8 large muffins (3 inches in diameter) or 12 small muffins (2 1/4 inches in diameter).

For the delicious taste and "just right" texture these muffins should have, be sure to use Kellogg's All-Brans, and no other kind. All-Brans provides "bulk" and also supplies intestinal tonic vitamin B₁.

LIVESTOCK PARADE FEATURE OF FAIR

With more than 700 head of livestock entered in the fair, exclusive of the smaller type livestock such as poultry and rabbits, there should be a spectacular parade of animals when the livestock procession is held before the race track grandstand on Wednesday, September 11, during the week of the seventy-ninth annual Victoria Fair to be held at the Willows from September 7 to 14 inclusive.

There are entered in the fair fifty-three head of heavy horses; 153 head of swine; 240 head of cattle; 204 head of sheep and 75 head of goats. Cash prizes amounting to more than $16,000 have been put up for competition in these different divisions.

With many more entries from outside points than has been the case in recent years, competition should be exceptionally keen.

In addition to the livestock parade on Wednesday afternoon, there will be a parade of prize-winning livestock in the Horse Show Building on Thursday night. This parade will herald the opening of the evening's program.

First Troop Train From Victoria Carries Men to Camp at Nanaimo for Two Weeks' Training

Roland Dodwell and "Pud" Foster busy putting up their tent, an hour after arriving in camp.

The eight-car troop train pulls out of the E. & N. Depot early Sunday morning for Nanaimo and the boys lean from the windows to wave farewell to their parents, wives, children, sisters, brothers and sweethearts. The train carried detachments of the 5th B.C. Coast Brigade, 13th Field Ambulance, 6th Divisional Supply Column, and 1st Searchlight Battery, all nonpermanent active militia units.

2nd Lieuts. Bob Wootton and Ralph Davies of the Searchlight unit.

The 6th Supply Company is a Vancouver unit. Many Victorians have joined it and several of the officers are local men including, from left to right: 2nd Lieut. Waldo Skillings, Capt. A. de Mellin and Lieut. Noel T. Peters.

Bernard Mobey, left, and Gordon Leask are two of the most important men in the 5th—they are buglers and call the troops to meals. But in the morning they are not so popular when they sound "Reveille."

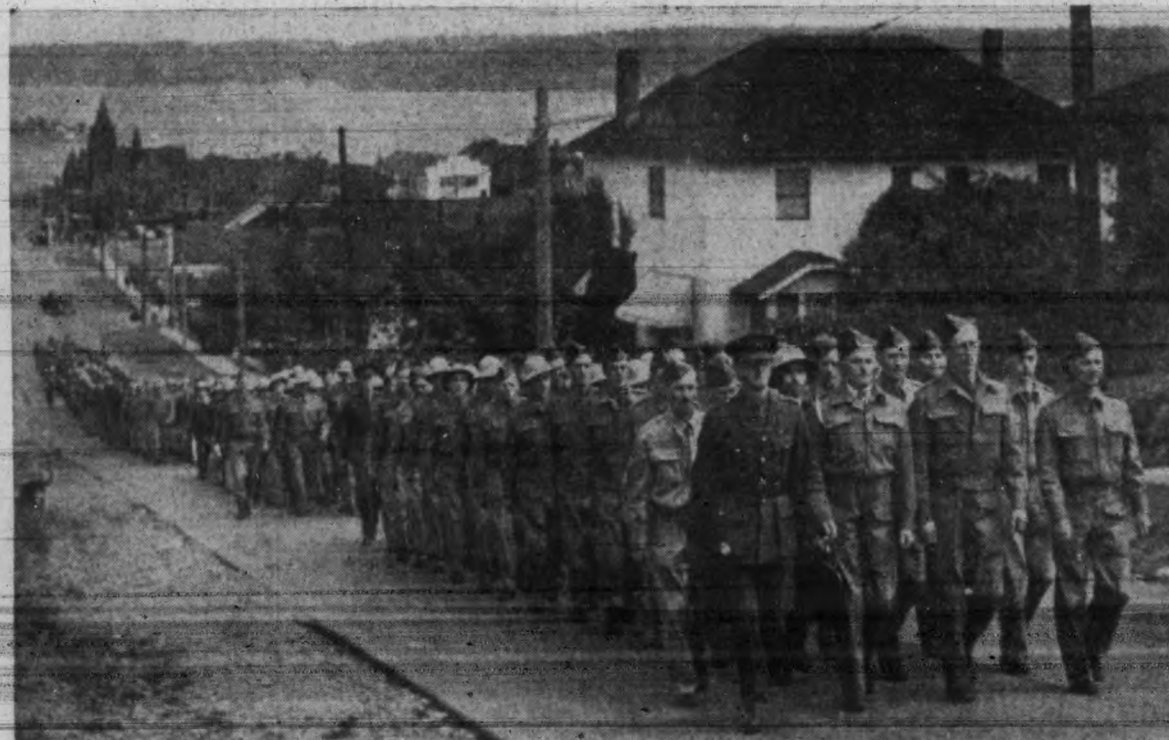

Filling paillasses is one of the first tasks for the new soldier. Some of the men put so much straw in that they rolled off them.

The troops laugh and joke over kitchen fatigue. This group is peeling five sacks of potatoes for dinner. At the left is Jim O'Connor a butcher at David Spencer Ltd.

Led by Major M. Kirkpatrick Crockett the men of the 5th Coast Brigade march up a Nanaimo hill on the way to the vast camp near the golf links.

A group of well-known athletes—now gunners in the 5th. All are proficient in baseball, box lacrosse, Canadian football and basketball. In the picture are: Roy Bishop, "Red" Mason, Brent Murdoch, Ralph Baker, Norman Baker, Jack Sargent, Bob Wallace, Frank Harris, Ritchie Nichol, "Red" Davies, Jack Grogan and Roy Okell.

Author Amazed By His Success

Dale Carnegie, who wrote "How to Win Friends and Influence People," which sold 1,000,000 copies in three years, smashing the non-fiction record, was "the most amazing author in the world" when his book was published and became an instant success.

A quiet, unassuming individual, who is trying to get away from the world to enjoy some fishing at Cowichan Bay, Mr. Carnegie reached Victoria yesterday after touring Alaska.

"I wrote it as a textbook in 1935, was convinced that it was no good and threw it away," he said when interviewed at the Empress Hotel this morning. "In the following year I tackled it again, streamlined the ideas and made them applicable to business. I never expected it to go over and I was the most surprised writer alive when it did."

The purpose of the book, he said, was to help people solve the biggest problem they face—the problem of getting along with and influencing people in every-day social and business contacts.

The most remarkable thing about Mr. Carnegie, however, is that he finds it extremely difficult to apply the principles he preaches to himself.

"Who does apply all these principles?" he challenged. "Hardly a day passes but I give myself a figurative kick in the pants for the foolish things I do."

"The greatest tragedy of the world today is not the war but the staggering fact that people don't get half as much happiness out of life as they should. We should forget our troubles and be thankful for the great blessings that we have. Why, I can't look out of that window and see the flowers without feeling like shouting for joy."

Mr. Carnegie wrote five books before he tried his most successful effort, and said none of them had ever been heard of.

Two of them were on public speaking, one entitled "Five Minute Biographies," another "Little Known Facts About Well-Known People," and a biography on the great emancipator, Lincoln the Unknown. The latter, he says, is still unknown.

His newest effort is "How to Conquer Fear and Develop Courage and Self-Confidence," which he is now writing.

TOWN TOPICS

The Gorge Unit of the Red Cross will meet Thursday afternoon at 2 in the basement of the Presbyterian Church, Tillamook Road.

The next Victoria High School Alumni dance will be held on October 11 at the Crystal Garden instead of September 13 as previously announced.

The Presbyterian Church in Canada will meet tonight at 8 in St. Andrew's Church. Reports from the various committees will be presented.

A hand-loomed auto robe, valued at $40, was stolen from a car owned by Paul McCarey, Albert Head, while it was parked in town Friday, city police were informed.

City Police were informed by a woman yesterday that the words "Heil Hitler" had been painted in red on the seawall on Dallas Road at Menzies Street. The paint could not be erased.

Members of Britannia and Pro Patria Training Corps will parade at 7.30 p.m. tomorrow at the Royal Athletic Park. There will be special business and a full attendance is requested.

Dr. Henry Rutan, son of Mrs. A. C. Rutan, Seacrest Apartments, was to have joined the armed merchant cruiser Dunvegan Castle as surgeon-lieutenant commander September 1, but it is not thought he was aboard when she was torpedoed and sunk. Dr. Rutan, who specializes in tropical medicine in London, has been living in England for several years.

The members of the Esquimalt C.Y.O. entertained a large number of soldiers and sailors in the Knights of Columbus Army Hut in Queen of Peace Church hall, Old Esquimalt Road, on Sunday evening, September 2, a concert put on by the Esquimalt C.Y.O. will be given in the Hut. Men in uniform are also welcome to visit the Hut any evening of the week from 7 to 11. A comfortable reading and writing room and a large hall for games has been provided.

Matter of longer business hours for grocery stores near tourist camps will be taken up by Mayor McGavin at the next meeting of the city police commission. The mayor today received a letter from W. H. Caton of the Home Bungalow Court telling of complaints of tourists because they could purchase no supplies after 5 in the evening. "What is the use of the government spending $100,000 on advertising, if we cannot treat tourists right when they arrive here?" Mr. Caton asked.

In Police Court

Youths Convicted On Theft Charges
Magistrate Henry C. Hall in City Police Court this morning found guilty Donald Stencil, charged with being in possession of stolen articles, and Hugh McMillan, charged with theft of two articles, and remanded them until tomorrow morning for sentence.

Stencil pleaded guilty to a charge of being in possession of two auto license plates, the property of J. M. Sutherland, but entered a plea of not guilty to a charge that he had in his possession a kodak camera over the value of $25, the property of Mrs. Mabel Jochen, Cedarburgh, Wisconsin. McMillan pleaded guilty to the theft of Mrs. Jochen's camera, but pleaded not guilty to theft of one coat, property of the same woman. This Magistrate Hall took as a plea of guilty.

Detective Dave Donaldson related the circumstances which led to the arrest of the two youths. Both had long previous records of convictions, which were read by Claude L. Harrison, city prosecutor.

Stencil testified he bought the camera, valued at $30, from McMillan for $1.50, not knowing it was stolen property. McMillan admitted he sold the camera to Stencil and did not tell him it was stolen. He denied the charge of stealing the coat from Mrs. Jochen's car when it was parked outside 1430 Newport Avenue. Mrs. Jochen testified the coat and camera were found missing the same night.

Albert George, Indian, was fined $50, or in default seven days in jail, when he pleaded guilty to a charge of dangerous driving. Constable George Claydars testified that on Saturday night on Gorge Road accused overtook 14 cars and drove on the wrong side of the road at a speed of between 45 and 50 miles an hour.

The case of Lorne Russell, sailor, charged with theft of a car, was remanded until Thursday on request of Stuart Henderson, defence counsel, who stated he would be unable to secure witnesses until that date.

Five motorists were fined $10 each by Magistrate Hall for exceeding the speed limit. Two paid $2.50 each for overparking.

Back to School

Allan Richardson, 7, Grade 3, day dreaming already.

Lorne Jones, 8, Grade 3, was hungry almost as soon as he got seated.

Buddy Jones, 9, Grade 4, couldn't get to school without his dog.

"How'd you Red? My sunburn's better'n than yours."

"Gee, did I have a swell time? 'I was off Vancouver Island for the first time in my life.' 'It's great to be back—oh yes.' 'Thank goodness we've got a new teacher.'"

Such remarks were exchanged this morning as approximately 8,000 youngsters of Greater Victoria trooped back to grade and high schools of Victoria, Saanich, Esquimalt and Oak Bay after their annual two months' summer vacation.

Principals were busy tabulating the numbers of their new students all morning. By closing time today the School Board was expected to know exactly how many children were registered for the new term. Officials of the board thought there might be a slight increase in registration.

Many navy, army and air force families have come to Victoria in the last two months and their children started school in Victoria today. In addition, practically every school had a child or two from England, sent to Victoria for the duration of the war.

Many of these children, however, are going to private schools. Early this afternoon the children were released from their schoolrooms, for little work was done today. By mid-afternoon the city was thronged with children and their mothers. They gave the clerks in the book stores a sudden rush as they searched for writing pads, books, pens and pencils.

HENDERSON TO DEFEND MYLES

Stuart Henderson will defend Ronald Albin Myles, 29-year-old sailor, who is held following the death of his wife, Edith Alice Myles, in their home at 1329 Esquimalt Road.

Myles was charged in Esquimalt Police Court Saturday morning with the murder of his 23-year-old wife. The case was adjourned until Saturday morning at 11.

It is understood that Mrs. Myles met death through some form of suffocation, although no official statement has yet been made as to the cause of death.

Esquimalt police reported today they could report no new developments in the case. A number of Myles' seamen requested permission to see him, but were refused.

Oak Bay police constables Dan Doswell and Walter H. Douglas, and a motor mechanic, Wilfred T. Burley, gave evidence to the fact that the brakes on the two-ton truck involved in the accident, were in poor condition when they made examinations following the accident.

The horn was not working. Constable Doswell advised it had not worked for two months. Bligh told the jury. The brakes had been checked three weeks before the accident though, he said.

Jury was composed of William R. Ridington, foreman; Charles C. Creagh, Albert B. Henry, James Macmillan, Thomas Watt and James Cameron.
Coroner E. C. Hart presided.

Poison Gas, World War 'Secret Weapon'

At this time it may be of interest to go back over the history of poison gas in the war which broke out in 1914.

Certain forms of poison gas had been used in ancient times and in the Middle Ages. They had been obtained by burning sulphur and pitch. It was believed, however, that this kind of weapon had been ruled out of modern war.

British soldiers, showing equipment. "A" contains gas mask. "B" is anti-gas cape rolled up on back. Ammunition is carried in cases marked "C." "D" is haversack.

In 1907 the Hague Convention had adopted this rule. "It is expressly forbidden to employ poison or poisoned arms in warfare." It has been claimed that the rule did not include poison gas, but the Allies, at least, did not feel free to use it.

In October, 1914, the Germans bombarded a French army with shrapnel which contained a poisonous substance. That "secret weapon" failed to do much damage.

In April, 1915, the Germans let loose clouds of poison gas on Canadian troops. This surprise attack "stopped all resistance to a depth of several miles."

In of poison gas. Methods were found to place it in shells fired from cannon. When the shells burst, they spread the fearful substance.

Masks cut down the injuries, but poison gas killed thousands of men, and hurt great numbers of others.

The most deadly gases used were chlorine, phosgene and prussic acid. One of these was of such power that it could cause death in a very short time. If a person breathed air which contained a good deal of it, he died within a few minutes.

Other gases were not so deadly, but were used because they put men out of action. One of these was "tear gas," which attacked the eyes, and made tears flow. When a soldier was suffering in that way, he could not resist the attack of the enemy.

Mustard gas also was widely employed. It caused trouble on the eyes and skin, and on the linings of the lungs.

Memory of the gas horror of the World War led the nations of Europe to fear it when war opened in September of last year. Women and children, as well as men, were provided with gas masks.

HOROSCOPE

Tuesday, September 3

Benefic aspects rule today. It is fortunate for those who deal in the finer things of life. Purveyors of music and art should benefit.

Women are under the best possible direction today. It is a date for seeking employment, but sudden decisions should be avoided. The judgment may not be trustworthy, but there will be good luck which should be wisely used. Love affairs will flourish under this configuration, which encourages the marriage of those who have engaged in summer romances and the beginning of new interest on the part of young folk.

Revolutionary influences are to gain strength in the countries subdued by Hitler. The reign of the dictators after victory for the British Empire is to be of short duration, astrologers predict, but the war in Europe may be prolonged for months. The sudden and unexpected will mark coming events.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of good luck. For certain ones there will be gain through a foreign contact.

Children born on this day probably will be extremely clever. Artistic, fastidious and energetic, they should make their lives beautiful as well as successful.

Since 1934, 5,200 whales have been tagged in an effort to learn more about their habits, and about 200 tagged whales have been recovered, indicating that these whales returned to the same area each summer.

Answer: Right. However, true potato seeds are a rarity, and cuttings of the underground tubers usually are used for reproduction.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I married a widower with three children from 10 to 16. I do all the work of making a comfortable home for them and am trying to be a good wife and mother to them, and I think this entitles me to be treated as a wife and mother instead of just as a housekeeper. But my husband shuts me out from all management of the children. Never consults me about what they shall do and where they shall go. When they want to do anything or go anywhere he never says: "What does mother think about it?" or "I'll talk it over with mother." He settles it and makes me feel like a rank outsider. Also, when my husband's first wife died, he had his insurance made out to his children, and I feel that this should be changed and left to me.

Answer: When a grown woman marries a widower with half-grown children, she needs the wisdom of Solomon, the tact of a diplomat, the patience of Job and the ability to take it of Griselda, and then some. For she faces the most complicated and difficult task on earth, and, no matter how well she does it, she seldom gets any thanks for it.

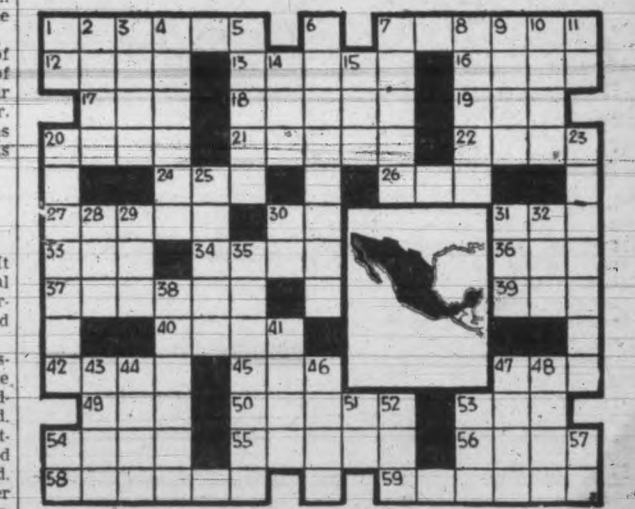

To begin with, she goes into the enemies' camp, for the children are almost invariably prejudiced against their stepmother and are looking for her to treat them like the cruel stepmother of the old fairy tales on which they were reared, so they don't even give her a fair break at the start.

Furthermore, in this attitude they are more than likely to be abetted by their mother's people, who are not going to let poor, dear Sally's children be abused by a stepmother. And if the father is a fond parent, he also is on the defensive and ready to side with the kids.

Now, it is hard enough for even an own mother to get along with adolescent children, who are just at the age when they know it all and are most resentful of authority, so what chance has the poor stepmother to get along with a lot of headstrong youngsters when they all gang up against her?

DOROTHY DIX.

Each race was five miles in length. The water was fairly good for racing all afternoon. It became a little choppy near the finish of the program.

ENGINE IN FLAMES

In the third event on the program, the F class hydroplane race, Cammie Cameron won the contest with flames shooting from his engine for the last half lap. Cameron crossed the finish line and then gunned his boat for shore where a fire extinguisher went to work. There was no damage.

As Cameron was bringing his boat to the landing, Don Stansell of Klamath Falls, cracked his boat "Ducky" into fellow townsman, Charles Ziegler, putting the latter out of commission for the rest of the program. Stansell mounted the cockpit of Ziegler's boat, smashing the side of the boat. The engine was also smashed.

On the last turn of the sixth race, the Inboard Helmer dash, R. Pickett turned his "Water Dog" over. He was thrown clear. The boat was saved.

Irving Earl, Victoria, in the American vs. Canadian inboard race, was thrown out of the cockpit of his boat as he zoomed around a turn. He climbed back in the boat to carry on but the rudder was broken.

Russ Lyall, also of Victoria, in attempting to dodge Jett in the open inboard race, swamped. The boat sank. Apart from a good ducking, Lyall was all right. He was driving Don Wilkinson's boat.

Trophies won during the afternoon were presented at a dance in the Crystal Garden in the evening.

VICTORIA MAN SAYS: "NOW I EAT ANYTHING I WANT, THANKS TO MOSBY'S TONIC"

"But Before I Found Mosby's Tonic My Stomach Would Swell With Gas After Every Meal," Says Mr. Cole, of York Hotel. Now His Gas and Bloating and Distressful Pains Are Relieved and He Feels Fine Once Again

Painful gas and bloating—indigestion after meals—sleeplessness—burning sensation around heart—weak, worn-out feeling—difficult breathing—choked feeling in chest due to gas—these are some of the penalties of an Upset Stomach. Many Victoria people have suffered in that way for YEARS. But now, Mosby's Tonic is relieving them by the thousands. This is a "New Scientific Medicine," now being introduced to the public daily at the Cunningham Drug Store, Fort and Douglas Sts. For instance, just a few days ago, Mr. James M. Cole, of York Hotel, Victoria, made the following statement. Mr. Cole has lived in Victoria 29 years. He is one of this city's best-known men. Read what he has to say about Mosby's Tonic:

Stomach Swollen With Gas After His Meals

"I am another resident of Victoria who has found Splendid Relief from long-time suffering by taking Mosby's Tonic, and I want to give you my statement and publicly endorse this Fine Medicine to others who are in distress like I was," said Mr. Cole. "I think I had about as bad an upset stomach as anybody you ever heard of. This kept up for a long time and was just about all a person could stand. After almost every meal I ate I would bloat up with gas, in fact, my stomach would swell beyond normal size. So you can imagine how distressful I felt. This gas bloating also made my breathing difficult, for it seemed to press upward into my chest and throat. I couldn't sleep right because of this upset stomach condition and felt weak and worn out."

Now Tells How Mosby's Tonic Gave Relief

"The worst thing was that it looked like nothing could help me, as I tried medicine after medicine but

Alice Marble Given Scare

NEW YORK (AP)—Two major upsets and a narrow squeak for champion Alice Marble marked the belated first day's play in the 59th annual United States singles tennis championships at Forest Hills yesterday.

Hal Surface of Kansas City ousted ninth seeded Gardner Mulloy of Coral Gables, Fla., the scores were 7-5, 6-4, 6-3.

Then young Jack Kramer of Belvedere Gardens, Calif., outlasted Gil Hunt of Washington, D.C., 8-6, 8-6, 8-6, in a match that must have made Bobby Riggs, the idle defending champion, wonder about his laurels.

Alice Marble had a hard time with Barbara Strobar of Philadelphia. Alice was down 1-3, in the first set before she rallied and won the match 6-3, 6-4.

Sarah Palfrey, New York, punched out a 3-6, 6-3, 6-1, victory over Mary Arnold of Los Angeles.

Dandy Takes Final Stake at Longacres

SEATTLE—Dandy's the dandy. He's the mudraking winner of the Labor Day Cup... the darling of the storm kings.

Running on the trickiest track of the season, the Uruguayan-bred son of Sans Tache romped to victory over the classiest field of the season yesterday at Longacres, in what was virtually a shower-bath edition of the recent $10,000 Aked Mile.

Beaten a mile and one-half by the South American was the big horse from Argentina, Olimpo. And only a head back of Olimpo was his running mate, the winner of the Ten G's, Pala Squaw. They raced, as always, in the colors of Al Rosenberg.

Four lengths behind the Rosenberg pair came Mrs. N. D. Parson's Exploded.

And far up the track, not even within rock-throwing distance of the leaders, were Mr. Grundy and Rolling Ball.

It was a six-horse race, an invitational affair, which grew out of arguments following the running of the $10,000 Mile in which Dandy ran second to Pala Squaw and beat Olimpo across the line by half a length.

Ernie Bonham checked in from Kansas City some time ago.

Charley Stanceu, Johnny Lindell, Tommy Reis, Don Hendrickson and Charley Wensloff, right-handers, and Al Gearhauser, a left-hander, are other Blue pitchers who will be closely inspected by McCarthy when another training season rolls around.

From Newark will come George Washburn, George Barley, Norman Branch, Hank Borowy and Steve Peek, a St. Lawrence graduate from Uta who won 32 games for Binghamton the last two campaigns.

Stanceu and his slider have accounted for 12 games for Kansas City, Lindell for 14, Hendrickson for 13 and Wensloff for 10. Reis, who won 17 while losing four for the Blues last year, developed arm trouble with the Yankees.

Barley, a product of Duke, has copied 15 games for Newark.

Washburn, no longer wild, has grabbed 14. Branch, who learned to pitch at the University of Texas, has everything, including a remarkable screwball. Borowy, a 22-year-old six-footer only 14 months out of Fordham, has turned in three shutouts in winning 11 games.

Such material should quickly put the New York club back on its feet.

The Yanks will be coming again. Common rock salt ground fine and used dry is several times as effective as limestone dust in the prevention of coal-dust explosions in mines, tests indicate.

YANKS MOVE INTO SECOND

The Senators also won the second game 5 to 4 in six innings.

Paul Derringer got his 18th victory by holding St. Louis Cardinals to five hits as Cincinnati Reds captured the first game of their doubleheader 2 to 1. The Cards managed to hang on to third place by taking the nightcap 7 to 4.

Boston Bees squeezed out a 7 to 6 verdict over Brooklyn Dodgers in an 11-inning first game, but Brooklyn bagged the second game 6 to 2.

Pittsburgh Pirates whipped Chicago Cubs 5 to 2 for Rip Sewell's 13th triumph, but dropped the nightcap 7 to 1.

The Phillies won 11 to 2 and 6 to 5 from New York Giants.

COAST LEAGUE

Oakland Acorns, slipping fast since Los Angeles moved them out of the second place spot they had held nearly all season, found themselves only a game and a half ahead off fourth place today after dropping another Coast League baseball doubleheader to the Angeles.

Los Angeles nipped the Oaks on their home lot, 8 to 4 and 5 to 3, to take the nine-game series, seven games to two, and creep up one game on the league-leading Seattle Rainiers, whose doubleheader with San Diego was rained out at the northern city.

Hollywood split a Labor Day twin-bill with San Francisco at the film city, pushing across seven runs in the fifth for an 11 to 5 win in the opener, but dropping the second 3 to 0. Sam Gibson gave up only four hits in salvaging the nightcap for the Seals—his 12th victory of the year and sixth shutout.

At Portland, the last-place Beaver and Sacramento divided honors, the visitors taking the opener, 6 to 3, with home runs by Chet Wiecezorek, Eddie Lake and Jim Grik, and Portland the nightcap, 4 to 3.

The second game only lasted seven innings, by agreement. Pitcher Ray Byers kept the Albertas in check with a good mound performance, but Longshoremen continued to pound the Albertas' pitchers offerings lustily.
